

Privacy

Talisman respects your privacy. We do not sell, trade or rent any personally identifiable information about our users to other parties without our users' consent. In extreme cases, we reserve the right to disclose user information. For instance, when we believe that such disclosure is necessary to identify, contact or bring legal action against someone who may be infringing (or threatening to infringe) or who may otherwise be causing interference with our title, rights, interests or property, or those of other web site users, or of anyone else who could be harmed by such activities. We also reserve the right to disclose, without notice to you, personal information in response to a subpoena or other judicial order or when we believe in good faith that such disclosure is required by any law, regulation or listing requirement, governmental or regulatory authority.

Collection of information

Talisman's computer systems logs basic information about your computer, including its:

- IP address

- Operating system

- Browser software

However, we do not collect any personally identifiable information about you except when you specifically and knowingly provide it. We do, however, require registration for users who wish to use our online ordering system. If you decide to register, you will be asked to provide certain information and details, including your name, company, title, country and e-mail address. We use this information about your computer to perform routine web site maintenance and to generate various aggregate reports for internal analysis, research and monitoring purposes, so as to help us develop and enhance our web site and services for our users.

Use of information

We may use the information you provide to respond to your requests for additional information, to contact you, if necessary for any administrative purposes. We may also access your information to resolve disputes, troubleshoot problems, enforce agreements between us, or for marketing purposes. In addition, for certain transactions, our system may use your transaction details to automate and to streamline your transaction by checking for electronic data compliance, providing reporting features, and transferring data from previous forms to those of the current transaction. You always have a choice about receiving mailings, surveys or information about products and services from us. Each e-mail you receive has an "Unsubscribe" option.
